IELTS Up Words!

Lesson 30: Environmental Problems

Hello there, and welcome back to another lesson of IELTS Up Words! I am Yasi, your IELTS mentor from Lingemy.com. Wow! Time flies, right? It feels like it was only yesterday that we started this course! Now, look at us! We are already covering lesson thirty! Almost halfway there!

In this lesson, we are going to talk about the environment. Some environmental problems are pervasive and no one is immune from them, so it is important to raise awareness with regards to them. We will look at one problem in this lesson and a related problem in the next lesson.

And as for the question of today, let's take things up a notch and speak a bit longer. I am going to talk for about one minute and answer the following question. You do the same too.

Describe an environmental problem or event. You should say:

- what it is
- where it is happening
- what problems it causes

I would like to talk about air pollution, which I think is a pressing environmental issue that we are facing nowadays. The main reason behind this problem is the ever-growing amount of pollutants that are emitted into the air every day. Different human-related factors, such as factories and automobiles, contribute to this problem by burning fossil fuels. As a consequence, the world is getting more polluted at an alarming rate and, therefore, affecting every country. We must act immediately if we don't want to cause insoluble environmental problems because it seems to me that making positive changes is still viable. For example, we could replace fossil fuels with electricity, solar, or wind power. This way, we can not only have cleaner air to breathe but also a more stable economy in the future when oil supplies run dry.

Speaking Tip

Speaking Part Two Notes

Remember that for the second part of the IELTS speaking test, you will be given a question similar to the one above, and you have two minutes to talk about it. Two minutes is a long time, and you can prepare by starting with a shorter time. Practice speaking for thirty seconds, and whenever you feel comfortable, add thirty seconds more until you reach two seconds.

Most questions fit into one of these topics:

- a person, such as your childhood friend, family member, or neighbor
- an object, such as a type of plant, jeans, or a gift
- an event, such as a concert or festival
- a place, for example, somewhere you visited
- an activity, such as a hobby
- a favorite book, movie, or advertisement
