IELTS Up Words!

Lesson 36: Crime

Welcome to lesson thirty-six of IELTS Up Words! In this lesson, we are going to learn a lot of new words and expressions related to crime, and then, in the next lesson, we will go through some questions. Ready?

As you may know, some crimes are considered serious or major, such as kidnapping, murder, arson, and larceny. Some other crimes are considered petty or minor, like pickpocketing, vandalism, and reckless driving.

When a criminal commits a crime, the police arrests them and sends them to jail to await trial. At court, the judge, or sometimes the jury, will decide whether they are guilty or not. If they are found guilty, they are usually sentenced to prison. If they are a juvenile delinquent, they are usually sentenced to do community service. In the United States, a juvenile delinquent is a person below eighteen who commits a crime.

Actions that are offensive to an individual or a group of people, but do not violate the law, are not crimes. So, unless a new law is passed in Iran that says something—like jaywalking or dumping toxic waste—is illegal, it is not considered an offense.

Every society needs a strong system of law enforcement to reduce crime rates and prevent more crimes from being perpetrated. I think this is especially true for us in Iran. We need more strict laws here since most of us are not law-abiding citizens. Haha.

And no, I don't mean that we need to send more people to prison or have more severe punishments. In fact, I oppose penalties like capital punishment. I think effective policing that leads to swift and certain sanctions is a better deterrent than the threat of incarceration or the death penalty. By the way, incarceration is just an advanced word meaning imprisonment—sending someone to prison.

What do you think? Are you for or against capital punishment? Why?

Speaking Tip

Cohesive Devices: Alternatives

Use these linkers when you want to talk about a second option:

- Alternatively: as another option or possibility.

Example: Alternatively, we can educate felons to become useful members of society.

- Either that, or...

Example: All criminals should be forced to do community service. Either that, or they should be fined.
