IELTS Up Words!

Lesson 41: Music

Hello, hello, and hello! You are listening to me, your IELTS mentor, and this is the forty-first lesson of IELTS Up Words! In this lesson, we are going to talk about another form of art that I am sure you admire, and that is music! Do you like music? I bet you do! In this lesson, we are going to learn about ways to describe it! Then, we will listen to someone answer an IELTS part two question about music.

Tell me, what kind of music do you usually listen to? Classical or contemporary? Are you musically gifted? Are you good at strumming a guitar? Or do you consider yourself tone-deaf?

I enjoy listening to songs, especially those with a catchy tune and upbeat tempo, but I can't really play anything myself. I am thinking of taking classes to learn to play the violin. The violin itself is aesthetically pleasing to the eye and the melody that it produces is otherworldly. It makes your skin tingle!

Now we are going to listen to someone answering the following question. Notice how naturally he connects each of these prompts without making it sound mechanical. You will see that you don't need a lot of linking words to do that.

Describe the type of music that you like. You should say:

why you enjoy listening to this type of music

the times or places when you listen to this music your feelings about music in general and whether you prefer live or recorded music

My taste in music is quite eclectic, and there isn't really one style of music that I like. I listen to everything from popular music to classical. Music plays a very important role in my life, and I listen to it almost constantly. I find that it helps to set or to change a mood. So, I tend to choose my music according to who I am with or what I am doing. For example, if I am driving long distances in my car, I prefer to play something stimulating to help keep me awake, but if I am having a dinner party with friends, then I play something more relaxing. I think that music helps to inspire me when I am working, although my colleagues find it distracting, so I tend to listen with headphones on. In that way, I can escape into my own little world. When I was younger, I would definitely have said that I preferred live music. The atmosphere in a live concert can be electric. Nowadays, though, a lot of popular groups only perform at very large venues in front of audiences of 20,000 or more, and I don't really like that. I prefer the intimacy of listening to recorded music, and the sound quality is better as well. Music really enriches our lives—it can turn a boring, monotonous period of time into a magical experience. So, I think it is essential to have music and, in fact, all of the arts in your life.
