IELTS Up Words!

Lesson 7: Illness

Illness

Hello, and welcome to the seventh lesson of IELTS Up Words! Have you ever gotten ill? Of course you have, right? Unless your immune system is exceptionally good! Haha. In this lesson, I am going to talk about a time I got ill. Listen to my story, and then tell me about yours, OK?

Talk about a time when you were ill.

I want to talk about the time I got chickenpox. I was a happy six-year-old kindergartener when it happened. I was always energetic and healthy, but one day, I remember I started getting this splitting headache that would only get worse. I was also aching all over with rash appearing across my arms and face. My teacher called my mom to come and take me home as my fever was getting worse. She picked me up from the kindergarten and took me to the doctor right away, and then it was confirmed that I had gotten chickenpox! He prescribed some medicine for me with an over-the-counter cream. After that, my mom took me home to take the medicine and rest. It was hard for me to sleep at first because of the fever and those emerging itchy blisters, but fortunately, the medicine that I had taken made me lethargic and drowsy, so I fell into a deep sleep. I guess it took me over a week and several cases of diarrhea to recover. After I my rash was healed, though, I was bouncing off the walls and ready to get back to school! And that is it. That was one of the few instances in my life at which I got somewhat sick.

Speaking Tip

Personalization

- Personalisation is an important part of the communicative approach, since it involves true communication.
- It helps us communicate real information about ourselves.
- Personalization helps you learn better and activate the words.
- Personalize every topic in this course.
