IELTS Up Words!

Lesson 74: Management

Hello! You are listening to lesson seventy-four of IELTS Up Words! In this lesson, we will take a look at the topic of jobs once again. This time, we will take things one step further and learn more advanced vocabulary.

In lesson seventeen of the book "Vocabulary for IELTS Advanced," there is a listening in which two speakers talk about the subject of management. It is a great listening exercise, full of useful words and expressions that you should learn. So, grab a pen and paper to scribble some notes while listening.

Speaker 1: I was promoted last year to Head of Department. I'm in charge of all of our overseas operations now. It's a golden opportunity for me. It means a lot more responsibility, but I'm hoping it'll also give me a chance to make a name for myself in the industry. One of the projects I took on recently involved setting up a new office in China so we can break into that market. It's a big investment in terms of time and capital, but I think it's a calculated risk, and it should pay off over time. Because it is a risk, we decided to amalgamate with a Chinese company. I was involved in the negotiations and drawing up the contracts for it. The other company was looking for an exporter, and we were looking for a local manufacturer, so it's a win-win situation, really.

Speaker 2: Running a company this size is never an easy task, and it's only through sheer hard work and determination we've become the household name we are today. I employ over 2,000 staff, but I take a hands-on approach to management and so I keep track of how things are going in just about every department. Things aren't running very smoothly in our domestic sales at the moment. The main problem seems to be the supervisor, who I appointed myself. It was a promotion for him, and he seemed ready to take on the extra responsibility. He certainly knows all the tricks of the trade, but his department is barely breaking even. In terms of his own management style, he certainly seems to communicate well with his team and holds regular meetings. But just this month, they missed an important deadline and cost us an important client. He just doesn't seem to be able to get the best out of his staff and the bottom line is, we're running a business here and we need to be profitable. If things don't improve soon, I'll be forced to make cutbacks in that department.
