IELTS Up Words!

Lesson 81: Likes and Dislikes

Woohoo! This is it! You are done! This is the final lesson of IELTS Up Words! I am so proud of you! In this lesson, I want to talk a bit more about movies, food, and the people that I like or dislike. Listen to the language I use, and then do your best to talk about yourself in a similar manner.

I am a big fan of TV series, such as Stranger Things and Dark. The casts of these shows always give a dazzling display of their talents and are favored by critics. I can't say the same thing when it comes to thriller movies or most TV shows. Thrillers don't usually work for me.

Now, let me tell you about a special person that I love and look up to. Her name is Malala Yousafzai, and she is my heroine. Do you know her? She is a campaigner for girls' education from Pakistan. She comes from a society with a deeply ingrained belief that girls should not have an education. She was shot by a Taliban gunman in an assassination attempt, but continued her activism after recovery and went on to receive a Nobel Peace Prize. I really admire her courage, dignity, and humility. More than anyone else, she inspires me to work hard no matter what. I always speak highly of her when I am with friends and recommend everyone to read her amazing life story.

And as for food, I love sushi, and can never have enough of it. Sushi not only tastes like heaven but is also a treat for the eyes. That goes for all types of sushi, such as sashimi and maki. However, I don't enjoy eating other types of seafood. For example, I have tried oysters often but never managed to acquire a taste for them. I consider most seafood tasteless, but many of my foodie friends disagree. I guess it is just a matter of taste. Furthermore, I believe that nothing beats a hearty breakfast. It is my favorite meal of the day, and I often experiment with different recipes to make something nourishing and invigorating.

What else? Mmm, I also enjoy making art. I used to take photographs and sketch when I was younger. These days, I am learning to play a musical instrument. I would also like to try singing. I hope I have a talent for that! Haha!

How about you? What type of art do you like creating? I think the appreciation of the arts is universal and timeless. I mean, even ancient civilizations showed a love of the arts. For instance, numerous studies have revealed that prehistoric humans enjoyed a primitive version of cinema. Isn't it amazing?

Now, it is your turn. Tell me about the things you like or dislike. Go on! I am all ears!

Speaking Tip

What Is Next?

Although this lesson marks the end of the course, it goes without saying that you still need to practice a lot more to master every word. I have done all I could to gather a collection of useful lessons here. But now the ball is in your court. You need to go through each lesson many times and use them as a reference.

Okay! This is the end of IELTS Up Words. If you have gotten this far and enjoyed our work, please spread the word about Lingemy and tell your friends about us. We are working on so many educational projects, so stay tuned!
